And welcome to great sustainable design and Great British craftsmanship.

WELCOME TO THE LAMURA COLLECTION

LAMURA[®]

DESIGNED WITH CARE, NATURALLY

What defines a great work surface? Durability? Appearance? How easy it is to clean? All are important of course, but for us it's about creating impactful designs that cause minimum impact on the environment.

It's why we're proud to say that all the timber used for the manufacturing of Lamura comes from well managed and sustainable forests. And prouder still to have earned accreditations from both the Forest Stewardship Council and the Programme for the Endorsement of Forest Certification.

LAMURA[®]

A DEEP-ROOTED APPRECIATION

No material has played a more important role in human civilisation than wood. So it's hardly surprising its natural beauty continues to hold a long-lasting appeal for so many.

The Lamura wood collection includes a choice of six distinctive oaks, ranging from the understated elegance of Natural Oak to the striking reclaimed look of Medium Grey Oak. Whichever décor you choose, you can be confident it will offer the same hardwearing versatility that's ingrained in every Lamura surface.

MARVEL AT MARBLE

There's a reason marble's appeal remains timeless.

After all, it's a finish that screams quality without ever having to shout. No small feat.

A choice of six marble-effect décors is available, including the ever popular Carrera and Calacatta. Both designs hail from the Tuscany region of Italy and feature the classic cloud-like veins so synonymous with marble.

Should you wish to break a little with tradition, perhaps turn your attention to the more exotic Black, Gold and Grey veined marbles. Whichever finish you choose, you can be confident the effect will look marvellous for years to come.

SLATED FOR SUCCESS

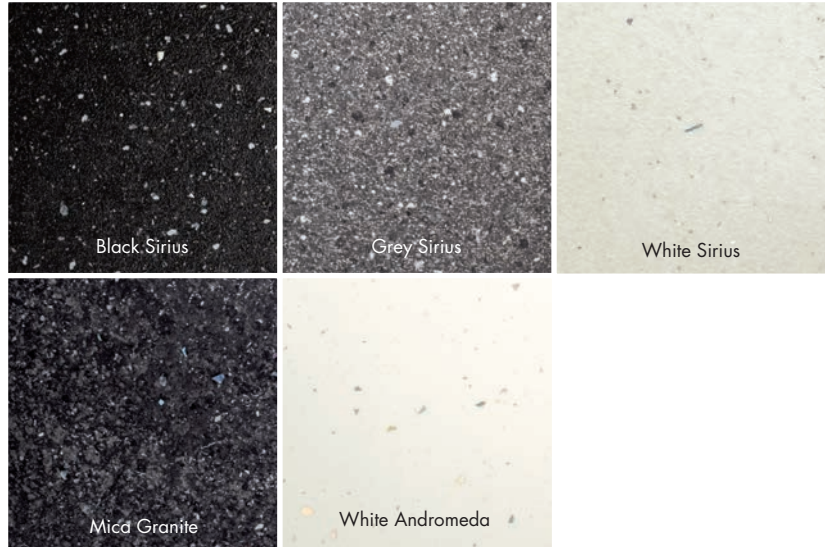

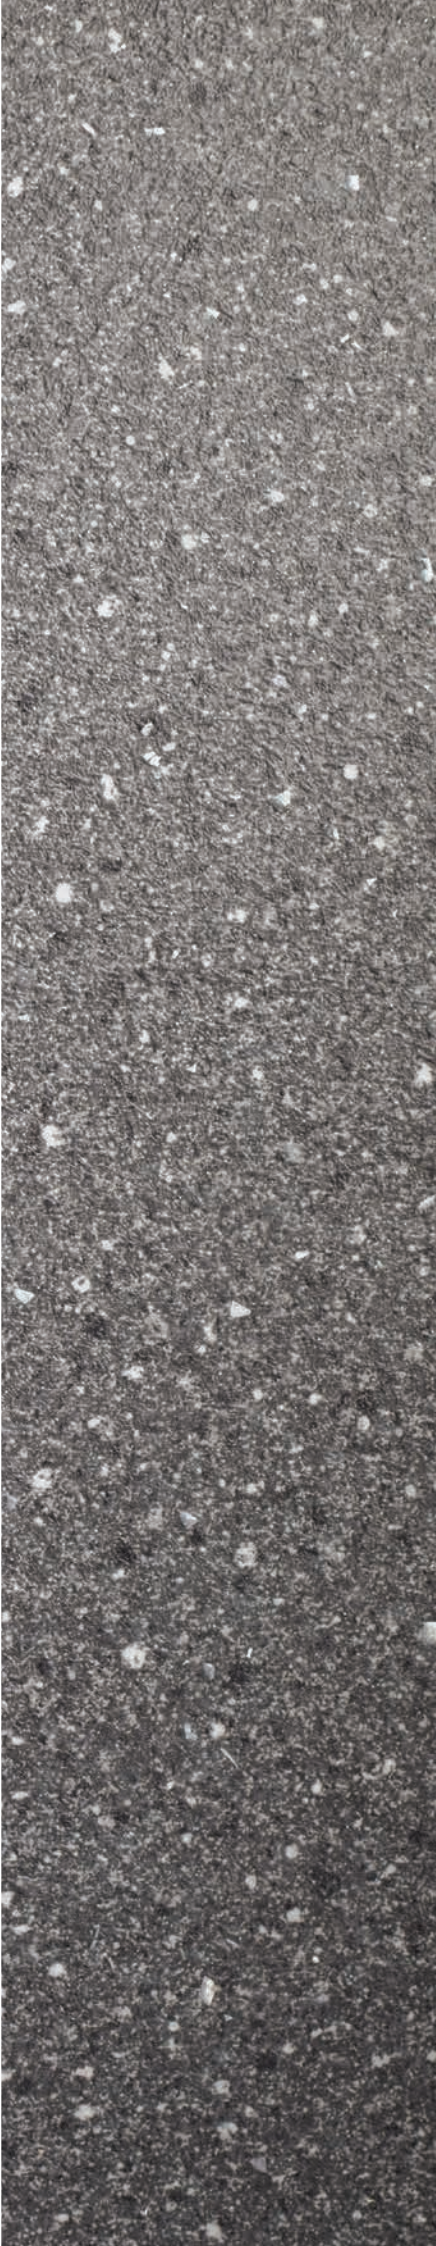

There's a reason slate's now commonly used for everything from coasters and jewellery to a posh place to plonk your fish and chips. It's because it evokes a real sense of warmth and strength.

Along with the subtle grey colours of natural slate, this Lamura slate-effect décor has a texture that looks and feels just like the real thing. A perfect example of bringing innovation to imitation.

EYE-CATCHING IN EVERY SENSE

Each of the granite-effect décors included in the Lamura collection feature bright reflective particles that playfully catch the light from every angle.

Black, Grey and White Sirius

These décors have a deep surface texture called Quarry, which provides a highly practical and hardwearing surface that's ideal for today's hardworking kitchens.

Mica Granite and White Andromeda

These sophisticated décors have a high gloss finish called Quartz* which further enhances the playful way light reflects off the surface. It really is quite mesmerising.

*Please note: The high gloss finish of quartz is more susceptible to scuffs and scratches than the other Lamura textures, so additional care needs to be taken when using these surfaces.

CONCRETE BENEFITS

When you think of concrete you naturally think of strength. After all, it's been the material of choice in construction for almost 200 years. Here at Lamura, we think of it as beautifully practical, too.

Why beautifully practical? Simple. Grey remains a highly favoured and on-trend colour for contemporary living spaces, while the natural weathered appearance of concrete is ideal for a kitchen environment where everyday scuffs and scratches come with the territory.

SEE THINGS IN A NEW LIGHT

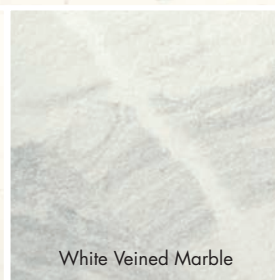

Whether you favour wood over marble, or granite over slate and concrete, it's essential to factor light into your décor choice.

White Veined Marble

If you're looking to make your kitchen appear bigger, light tones are your friends. Want to make a larger room feel more intimate? Then opt for a darker surface.

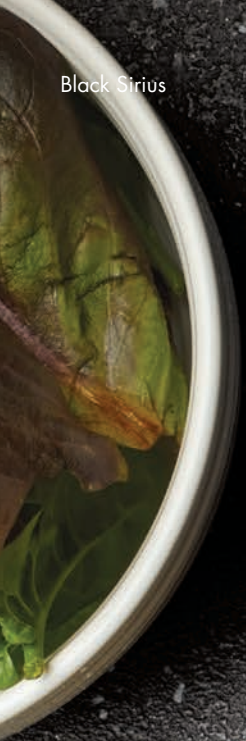

Alternatively, you may favour creating a striking contrast between your kitchen furniture and worktop regardless of room size. There's no right or wrong of course, however it's something we'd always recommend discussing with your kitchen designer.

THE MAGIC TOUCH

Worktops are designed to be used day in, day out, which is why the way they feel often holds as much importance as appearance. With this in mind, we've created five distinctive textures that sensitively enhance our wide choice of décors.

Sync

This texture is synchronised with the shapes and colours of White Veined Marble and our slate décor, resulting in a remarkably accurate representation of these beautiful stones.

Matt

Used with Weathered Concrete and several of our marble décors, this delicate texture provides a distinctly natural look and feel.

Wood

We have applied this texture to all our woodgrain décors because it subtly and ingeniously replicates the natural grain of real wood.

Quarry

A hardwearing texture that contains multicoloured elements that shine like crystals in granite. Quarry is the texture of choice for our three Sirius décors.

Quartz*

A gloss surface with multicoloured metallic elements freely distributed within the décor to produce a dazzling and unique finish.

*Please note: The high gloss finish of quartz is more susceptible to scuffs and scratches than the other Lamura textures, so additional care needs to be taken when using these surfaces.
